LEATHER BUTTONS AND NAILS.—It occurred to some fertile mind two or three years ago that the refuse of sole leather might be utilized for buttons and nails, and the manufacture of such nails and buttons from such material was entered upon in this Templar, meets in the Masonic Temple, on the third Monday evening in each month. the manufacture of such nails and buttons city. After a side of leather has been cut into soles a number of pieces are left-strips an inch or more in width. Only a certain part of these, or those coming from certain parts of the side, are used. The sole leather clippings are obtained from cutters of sole leather in boot and shoe districts. Any one who has traveled through Essex county, Massachusetts, through Lynn, Salem, Peabody and other towns could not escape the odor of burnt leather, mingled with that of tan bark or tanner's pickle. The sole leather clippings, as others, were used to furnish fires until the button of solid leather was invented. The leather nail or button is made in this city to the number of thirty or fifty thousand per day, according to design and finish. Every button is subjected to eight different processes. By machinery made for the purpose the nail or brad is firmly at-tached to the button. Another machine and Prince streets, on the 1st and 3d Monday turns this brad into an eye when buttons are desired instead of nails. The nails and buttons are made in various styles and colors, to harmonize with any covering. The fact that the nail can be driven without breaking the brad and without injury to its head is in its favor. Pullman cars, the furniture in hotels and elsewhere are decorated with the leather button or nail to the exclusion of the brass nail, which has declined fifty per cent. in price in consequence of the leather button competition .- Providence Journal .
